FATAL PARALYTIC STROKE CAUSED BY ACCIDENT

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, Sept. 2.—Paralysis, superinduced by a fracture of the spine received Tuesday, caused the death of Marcus E. Darrow, a well-known young farmer, at his home in Kaneville early this morning. Mr. Darrow was riding his horse when the horse attached to the rake became frightened, throwing the vehicle on top of the driver. Darrow's spine was fractured from the fall and paralysis immediately set in.

Begin Beet Digging Monday.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, Sept. 2.—Beetgrowers of Weber county have received notice from the officials of the Amalgamated Sugar company directing the digging of beets on September 5. As the factory here will start operations on September 15, it is necessary to have a considerable supply on hand to be able to tax the factory to its capacity.

Disputed Boundary Line.

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, Sept. 2.—Answering the complaint of Sarah E. Binford, in which she alleges that David Eccles overstepped the boundary line between his property and hers on Twenty-fourth street and erected a building on a portion of a lot owned by her, Binford's attorneys today denied that the boundary line is located at the points designated in the Binford complaint.

GIRL RUNS AMUCK IN STATE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, Sept. 2.—Armed with a long hatpin and a keen-edged butcher knife, which she had secreted in her stocking after taking it from the kitchen table, Marie Armstrong, one of the inmates of the state industrial school, ran amuck at the institution this morning and for a while she was the sole possessor of the premises, while the other girls in the institution were securely barricaded behind locked doors. Male guards were called from the main building and overpowered the girl after a hard struggle.

The cause of the murderous exhibition of the young girl was of a trifling nature, and Superintendent E. G. Gowans says that the girl's mind is affected. Superintendant Gowans, after the girl had been examined by Dr. G. W. Green, decided to apply to the district court for an order directing that a board of insanity examine the girl.

ACCUSED MAN WANTED FOR SWINDLING EMPLOYEES

Special to The Tribune.
TWIN FALLS, Ida., Sept. 2.—Joseph T. Hughes, who held the contract for hauling the sand required from point of production to the big Salmon dam, which has been under construction for three years, south of this city, is accused by his former employees of having defrauded them out of about $5000 in the aggregate. His disappearance without paying the men's wages has been acknowledged by the officers of the construction work. The amount he succeeded in getting away with is estimated at anywhere from $5000 to $6000. Measures looking toward his arrest are being taken here to face charges of false pretenses and selling mortgaged property have been taken. Hughes was started from this county two weeks ago. He drew cash from the office of the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water company, which is building the Salmon tract dam, the 15th of August, and was expected to pay his men for hauling sand, as had been his custom during many preceding months. He failed to meet these obligations, on the other hand offering excuses for asking their indulgence a few days. Coincidentally he sold property that was unpaid for. He had previously sold several of the teamsters the horses they were using and received for them a considerable sum. After it was learned that Hughes had decamped attachments were served on these teams by parties from whom he had purchased the same several months since, and thus a considerable number of his workmen victims are not only minus their wages but have lost their teams.

OLD-TIMER SELLS OUT; JOHN M'RAE, SHEEPMAN

Special to The Tribune.
TWIN FALLS, Ida., Sept. 2.—Johnnie M'rae, one of the oldest and best-known sheepmen in southeastern Idaho, completed the sale this week of all his flocks and ranch property for $150,000 to John Skellern, former Judge William Cummings of Chattanooga, Tenn., and John Gray, all of whom hold joint interests in the vicinity of the former M'rae properties in the region of Three Creek and the Little Bruneau headwaters. M'rae has been one of the most picturesque characters in this territory for thirty years, kept always close to the sheep business, and since turning most of his property into cash, receiving, it is said, a lump sum, he intends taking a trip around the world. En route he will visit South America and South Africa to investigate the sheep-grazing possibilities, and if he can find a good location for this business he expects to locate in some such foreign clime.

Is Full-Fledged High School.

Special to The Tribune.
SANDY, Sept. 2.—Enoch Jorgenson, principal of the Jordan high school, said today that the school had branched out into a full-fledged high school. A four-year course will be taught in the future. DENVER ELECTRIC COMPANY IS EXTENDING ITS SCOPE

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 2.—Directors of the Denver Gas and Electric company, a majority of which stock is held in Columbus, O., today adopted a resolution guaranteeing the principal interests of the bonds of the Lacombe Electric company, a former competitor in this city. The Lacombe company was some years ago absorbed by the Denver concern. The Lacombe bonds will eventually be retired by the sale of bonds of the Denver Gas and Electric company, which have been set aside for that purpose. Announcement was made at the meeting that a holding company, called the City Service company, had been organized for the purpose of acquiring the Empire District Electric company of Joplin, Mo., the Spokane Gas and Fuel company of Spokane, Wash., and the Denver Gas and Electric company. The plan is to acquire control through exchange of stock of individual companies for that of the holding company. It is stated that the offer does not mean a change of management or policies of the company to be taken over.
